Because it is a more competitive world, we have moved our Logon page to the beginning of your shopping experience. Our purpose is to limit access to the commerce portion of our site to interested buyers only. Thank you for your understanding and cooperation.

If you are currently a Registered Buyer, the impact of this change is minimal. You will simply be asked for your Buyer ID at the beginning of your shopping experience rather than before creating a cart. You will still need to enter your Password before submitting your order. You may still share your Buyer ID with others, possibly end users, because you control the cart and the order, with your Password.

For those of you who are shoppers, looking for just what you need, but plan only to create a cart and pass it along to a Registered Buyer, the impact is also minimal. You, too, must now enter the borrowed Buyer ID at the beginning of your shopping experience. You can still browse all products, select options, review prices, create a cart and save the cart as usual. You can still print a copy of your cart for your records.

For those of you who just want to browse our commerce site, we are expanding our site to include a section called 'Products at a Glance.' Think of it as window shopping. Here, anyone who wants to know what Badger State Industries, Wisconsin's Prison Industry Program, has to offer is free to browse. We're proud of what we do.
